Synod Report Two weeks ago, along with Annette, Pama and Robyn, I spent an inspiring weekend under the mountain in beautiful Ohakune attending this year's Synod. It was really positive two days of gathering. The diocese is in good heart and flourishing under the guidance of our bishops. The major theme was change and how we as a diocese are meeting it, be this change in parishes or the impact of climate change on those in our society who are most vulnerable. There was a particularly inspiring presentation on the plight of Tuvalu due to impact of king tides upon this small pacific nation. A issue that I would like us to engage with over the coming year. Andrew Parkinson (Synods Rep)
